

Cincinnati Blog

News, Opinion, and Media Analysis on Cincinnati, Ohio and the World From a Unique Perspective

Become a NSC Season Subscriber Today!

Contact/Info

Editor: Brian Griffin
FAQ
Site Feed
Facebook page

Contributors

Jack
Julie
Donald
Griff

Ads by Google

Singles In Cincinnati
 Start Meeting
 Cincinnati Singles
 In Our Comfortable

We Pay $10,000 Every Wed - You share something interesting.
 Help us build the new Smallaa. www.smallaa.com

Ads by Google

Tuesday, December 02, 2008

KZF Design Renovating Building Downtown

KZF Design Inc., an architecture, engineering, interior design and planning firm, announced in a press release that they will be renovating a 6,000-square-foot space in two connected structures located at 700 Broadway, at the junction of Seventh and Eighth streets. According to KZF this will be a 6 million dollar project that will comply with LEED-Silver certification. A target date for completion of the project is the Summer of 2009.

Currently KZF is located in the Baldwin Building in Walnut Hills.

There is no news for increasing jobs at KZF, but this demonstrates their stability and their investment in the future of Downtown Cincinnati. Their press release does indicate that they will have 30% more space than their current space in the Baldwin Building, so expansion would not be hampered by a lack of space.

For more info on KZF, check out their website.

Posted by Griff at 12/02/2008 06:46:00 AM Comment \(0\) | Trackback \(0\) Links to this post

Labels: Development, Downtown

Monday, December 01, 2008

Another Idea for Revenue

One more way Hamilton County could generate money to fix its budget:

Have a raffle.

Posted by Donald at 12/01/2008 06:05:00 PM Comments \(3\) | Trackback \(0\) Links to this post

Labels: Snark

Saturday, November 29, 2008

HamCo's Budget Woes

By now, we all know the story: the County faces a $31 million shortfall in 2009. The Board of Commissioners has determined, apparently, that the only way to fix this is to cut spending. But that seems to be looking at problem from only one of two possible angles. Why aren't we having a discussion about increasing revenue?