

KZF Design names New Leadership of Transportation & Municipal Group

KZF Design is pleased to announce Jon Wiley, PE has been named Director of the Transportation and Municipal Group and Brad Ackel, PE Director of Civil Engineering Services. Jon takes the torch from Former Director Hank Fedders, PE who remains at KZF as Director of Special Projects.

Jon Wiley, PE has more than 26 years in traffic engineering, planning and transportation design projects, including corridor studies, master planning, roadway design, environmental coordination, alternative analysis and bicycle facilities.

Brad Ackel, PE has 10 years of experience and is adept at the design of roadways, hike/bike trails, utilities, environmental process, riverfronts and site development including storm detention.

Hank Fedders, PE will maintain a significant role within KZF as Director of Special Projects, using his design expertise and project management skills in a variety of projects involving stormwater drainage engineering, utility design and municipal engineering services.

With these changes, KZF continues its history of offering our clients the very best in innovative and time-tested community infrastructure solutions. Visit the Transportation and Municipal Group on the web at KZF.COM/transportation
